Parking of Recreational, Boating, and Camping Equipment on Residential Properties

After an extensive review and consideration of the rights and interests of all residents and property owners, as well as the overall aesthetics of the Village, the Village Council adopted Ordinance 2016-07 on September 8, 2016 approving Code revisions that clarified the regulations governing the parking and storage of boats, trailers, and recreational camping equipment in the R-1 and R-2 Zoning Districts and providing for continued enforcement through the code compliance process. The Ordinance took effect on March 8th, six months from the date of final adoption. New Code provisions include a Village registration process and a special exception process for those not meeting the maximum length and height requirements who can demonstrate that all non-dimensional requirements, including setbacks and screening, are met. Staff has been finalizing the necessary application forms and procedures to implement these provisions, and will work with residents throughout the process and transition to code compliance. For detailed information, please check the Code Compliance page on the Community Development Department website at: www.villagenpb.org/152/codecompliance. Further information and easily accessible application forms will be provided through various means including an update in next month’s newsletter.

CODE OF THE MONTH

Sec. 15-15. - Maintenance Requirements

(e) Pools and spas shall be maintained so the water remains free and clear of pollutants and debris. Pools and spas shall comply with the enclosure requirements of this Code and Florida Building Code, as amended from time to time.

Police Department - Calling 911

With the advancements in technology, it is easy to see how many homes are moving away from landline telephones and solely relying on cell phones or internet-based phone systems. While the latter may seem more convenient to the consumer it is important to understand a few things with regards to dialing 911. Cell phones are a great way to stay in touch while mobile however, sometimes 911 calls placed on a cell phone may inadvertently bounce to a tower nearest to the device and not necessarily transmit to the appropriate tower which could delay in emergency response. This is typically a tower issue that is currently being addressed by cell phone service providers. Portable Interconnected Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP) services can be used from virtually any internet connection anywhere, which raises challenges for emergency services in determining the location from which a 911 call has originated. VoIP 911 calls may correctly connect, but not automatically transmit the user’s phone number and/or location information. VoIP customers may need to provide location or other information to their providers, and update this information if they change locations for their VoIP 911 service to function properly. VoIP may not work during a power outage, or when the internet connection fails or becomes overloaded. This may result in a 911 call not being able to be placed on this phone system.

If you are thinking of subscribing to an interconnected VoIP service, you should:

- Provide your accurate physical address to your VoIP service provider to ensure that emergency services can quickly be dispatched to your location.
- Be familiar with your VoIP service provider’s procedures for updating your address, and promptly update your address information in the event of a change.
- Have a clear understanding of any potential limitations of your 911 service that is through your VoIP provider.
- Inform children, babysitters, and visitors about your VoIP service and its 911 limitations, if any.
- If your power is out or your internet connection is down, be aware that your VoIP service may not work. Consider installing a backup power supply or having a wireless phone as a backup.
- Most importantly, while it may seem as a thing of the past, there is no substitution to a traditional landline telephone to ensure that a 911 call will be immediately and accurately transmitted and received.

The North Palm Beach Library is proud to offer you Rosetta Stone Language Learning software. There are 30 languages (see list below) to choose from and each lesson contains a reading, writing, listening, and speaking portion. Simply visit our website to begin learning, http://www.village-npb.org/615/Rosetta-Stone. The product is free to all NPB Library cardholders. There is no software to download. All you need is an Internet connection, computer, tablet, or smartphone to begin learning. How long does it take to master a level? Rosetta Stone states that it takes the average learner 20 weeks (or 30 minutes a day for 5 days a week) to master a level. Latin American Spanish, for example, has 5 levels. That means the average learner could complete all levels in less than 2 years. Questions? Call us 561-841-3383. Happy Learning!!

Fire Rescue - Electrical Safety Tips

An estimated 52,500 home structure fires reported to U.S. fire departments involved some type of electrical failure or malfunction as a factor contributing to ignition. These fires resulted in 340 civilian deaths, 1,400 civilian injuries, and $1,447 million in direct property damage.

Safety tips

• Replace or repair loose or frayed cords on all electrical devices.
• Avoid running extension cords across doorways or under carpets.
• In homes with small children, unused wall sockets and extension-cord receptacles should have plastic safety covers.
• Consider having additional circuits or outlets added by a qualified electrician so you do not have to use extension cords.
• Follow the manufacturer's instructions for plugging an appliance into a receptacle outlet.
• Avoid overloading outlets. Plug only one high-wattage appliance into each outlet at a time.
• If outlets or switches feel warm, shut off the circuit and have them checked by an electrician.
• When possible, avoid the use of "cube taps" and other devices that allow the connection of multiple appliances into a single receptacle.
• Place lamps on level surfaces, away from things that can burn and use bulbs that match the lamp's recommended wattage.

Housing Ceremony for New Fire Apparatus

Part of the traditional housing ceremony includes having the firefighters push the new apparatus into the firehouse. The origin is reported to be from the time of horse drawn equipment which could not easily be backed into the building by the horses. In some places, water from an old unit was transferred to the new apparatus often leading to spillage which then required the unit to be wiped down. In some places, when the new engine or piece arrived, one of the mutual aid companies would be given the honor of escorting it to the fire company’s firehouse and placing it in service.
